

WHO ARE SCHOOL SOCIAL WORKERS

SSWs provide a focused reach to support all students specifically in areas of social-emotional learning and mental health needs, and are uniquely trained to integrate the school, community, and family context into interventions and resource referrals. School social work interventions reduce barriers to learning enabling students to be physically, mentally, and emotionally present and ready to learn in the classrooms.

SSW NATIONAL PRACTICE MODEL GUIDING PRINCIPLES

- Provide culturally responsive evidence-based education, behavior and mental health services
- Promote a school climate and culture conducive to student learning & teaching excellence
- Maximize access to school-based and community-based resources

SOCIAL WORK PRACTICE IN SCHOOLS

ALL school social workers are educated to work towards equity and root their practices in social justice...this means school social workers are educated to break down opportunity gaps and address systemic inequities, which can be exacerbated by current social and environmental conditions.

ALL school social workers address barriers to learning honoring an individual's dignity and worth... this means through relational work school social workers are trained to meet mental health, social, emotional, behavioral, and physical needs to contribute to academic achievement.

ALL school social workers utilize trauma sensitive healing centered approaches and have specific training about cultural awareness... this means school social workers are trained to support and apply culturally responsive school practices.
